Accessing Accurant

Web Browser Access

To access LexisNexis® Accurant®, enter this URL into your web browser:

<http://www.accurint.com>

The LexisNexis home page will open.

The screenshot shows the LexisNexis Accurant website homepage. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the LexisNexis logo, the word "Accurant", and a "Share" button. Below this is a secondary navigation bar with links for "Home", "Industries Served", "Security Tips", "Support", and a "Sign In" button. The main banner features a large image of industrial machinery with a red overlay containing the text "LexisNexis® Accurant®" and "A direct connection to over 45 billion current public records. Detect fraud. Verify identities. Conduct investigations." Below the banner, there are sections for "For Accurant Customers:" and "Not an Accurant Customer?". The "For Accurant Customers:" section includes links for "Batching Inquiries", "Education & Training", and "Billing Support", along with a "SIGN IN" button. The "Not an Accurant Customer?" section provides information about the service and includes a "Schedule an Accurant demo to learn more." button. A "Security Notifications" section is also visible, featuring a red alarm icon and text about reducing risks during online interactions.

Sign In

Clicking Sign In from the Accurint Home Page (above) will begin the login process by opening the first of two Sign In windows (right). Follow these steps to continue:

1. Enter your User Name.
2. A set of Verification Characters is displayed. Enter these in the field provided below the display.
Note: Verification Characters provide you with greater security. We ask that you enter the numbers found in the box provided. Automated programs cannot 'read' the numbers you see in the box, only humans can. Entering the numbers helps ensure that you are logging into our system from the correct URL.
3. Click the Next button. The second of two Sign In windows appears.
4. Enter your Password.
Note: If you ever forget your password, click the Forgot your password? link for assistance.
5. Click Sign In.

The diagram illustrates the two-step sign-in process. It consists of two screenshots of the login interface, connected by a large green downward-pointing arrow. The first screenshot, labeled 'STEP 1 of 2', shows the 'Sign In' header, a brief explanation of the two-step process, and instructions to enter the user name and verification characters. It features a 'User Name' field (marked with a green circle 1), a 'Verification Characters' display showing '5 5 4 5 4' (marked with a green circle 2), and a 'Next' button (marked with a green circle 3). Below the input fields are links for 'Submit a question to support', 'Forgot your password?', 'Billing Support', and 'Education & Training'. The second screenshot, labeled 'STEP 2 of 2', shows the 'Sign In' header, instructions to enter the password, and a 'Sign In' button (marked with a green circle 5). It also includes links for 'Submit a question to support', 'Forgot your password?', and 'Customer Support Live Chat'.

Sign In:
To ensure the security of your account, we have implemented a new two-step sign on process. First you will be asked to enter your user name and verification characters. Next you will be asked to enter your password and click "Sign In."

People Category

This category contains basic information about individuals, including addresses, phone numbers, full dates of birth and Social Security numbers.

Businesses Category

Various business searches are available within the Business Category, such as Corporation, UCC Filing, Dun & Bradstreet, and Delaware Corporation. Public records are available for businesses, including business locator and secretary of state filings, FBNs and FEINs.

Best Practices

Why do we conduct a Business Search?

- Locate a business using a company name, business phone or TIN.
- The search may return business-related information from all states including related business names and TINs as well as address and phone information.

Assets Category

This category contains property, vehicles, watercraft and aircraft information.

Licenses Category

This category contains license information, including driver licenses and state professional licenses – another source of person locator information.

Best Practices

Why do we search Professional Licenses?

- People who need licenses in order to work in their profession will make sure that information is up-to-date.
- Many different states and types of licenses are covered. It is important to click the “coverage” link in order to know what licensure information is covered in which state.

Phones Category

This category contains phone look-ups and reverse phone look-ups in real time.

Courts Category

This category contains all court documents, including civil filings and criminal records.

Best Practices

Why do we conduct a Courts Search?

- Court records assist in your efforts to find additional information to verify a person or a business.
- Court records include a variety of search options including bankruptcy, criminal records, civil records, OFAC records, sexual offender information, foreclosures and much more.

Perform an Advanced Person Search

Sometimes it is necessary to search on a deeper level to find your subjects. We have made that search easier with Advanced Person Search. This Search allows you to include additional information about your subject, such as a relative's name or previous state(s) of residence, or even use partial information you may have, to more accurately pinpoint your subject's location.

- Search using your subject's name and the first name of a relative. For example, if you are looking for John Doe and you know he has a relative with the first name of Jane, enter "Jane" in the Relative First Name field.
- Search using your subject's name and include a name they may have previously used or may be currently using. For example, Jane Doe may have previously been known as Jane Smith. In this case, enter "Smith" in the Other Last Name field.
- Search using your subject's name and state of residence as well as any previous state or states (maximum of two) in which they may have resided. For example, Jane Doe in Florida who previously resided in Connecticut and Rhode Island. In this case, choose Connecticut and Rhode Island from the Other States drop-down list.
- Search using your subject's name, city and state and include the name of another city and state in which they may have lived. For example, Jane Doe in Sunrise, Florida, and Tallahassee, Florida. Use the Other City and Other State fields to include Tallahassee, Florida.
- Search using your subject's name and the last four digits of their Social Security Number. For example, enter Jane Doe in the First Name and Last Name fields and 1234 in the SSN field. You may even use a partial first name.

Further Research

Offers other avenues to uncover information including Relatives (1st degree matches), Neighbors, Associates (linked to the person via two shared common addresses), or a combination of all three.

Tip

Too Many Records Found

If too many records are found, the following message displays, “The search you have requested resulted in over 1000 matches.” Try adding criteria including Date of Birth and Age Range.

Why do we ....

search by Social Security Number?

Since ideally each SSN is connected to a single person, it is the best way to search for an individual.

search by data other than a Social Security Number?

- More than one person may be attached to a SSN, either through fraud or mistake.
- A young person, a new citizen, recent older widows who relied heavily on their husbands’ SSNs, and others with thin files may not have much information under their SSNs.
- A Sr./Jr. situation may result in the father’s and son’s information getting confused.

Best Practices

look up an address, even if it is old?

- An old address may lead us to a current address.
- Searching by an address will give you not only the subject, but others who have lived or are currently living at the address. These may be great contacts.
- If the person is renting, looking up an address (especially in property deeds) will give you the landlord’s name and information. They are another great contact.
- When a checkmark appears next to an address, it indicates that the address is the most probable current address.

LexisNexis® LexID<sup>SM</sup>

LexisNexis® LexID<sup>SM</sup> automatically analyzes billions of records and quickly identifies and connects relevant information using a secure (non-Social Security based number) and unique 12-digit identifier. LexID is also more secure than a Social Security number because it cannot be misused in order to commit fraud. It may potentially return more records than are returned in the original search using first name, last name, or date of birth. The result is a complete picture of an individual, leading to more accurate, timely and informed decisions.

Advanced Person Search and LexID

The LexID number only pulls records associated with a single individual. It may potentially return more records than are returned in the original Advanced Person Search using first name, last name, or date of birth.

Best Practices

Entity roll up provides a person's names, aliases, associated SSNs, addresses and phone numbers in one area.

Real-Time Person Search

Search using Last Name, First Name and State. You can also add criteria, such as Middle Name, DOB, City, Zip Code or Age Range to help you refine your search.

Click on Information Icons for additional tips.

Enable the Include similar-sounding names option to look for phonetic variations of the subject's name if you cannot find an exact match or if you are unsure of the spelling of a person's name.

Why do we conduct a Real-Time Phones Search?

Best Practices

- This search provides additional real-time phone source information on over 200 million wireless numbers and detailed information of carriers that can be used for investigative purposes.
- Search results include phone type, phone status, carrier details, and porting indicators which help you and your agency contact the appropriate operating company for case investigations, including subpoenas when necessary.

Reports

- Reports take the information from a specific subject's record and run that information through every available source.
  - Reports provide further detail on the target subject or business and may identify: related public records, business profiles, contact individuals, associated individuals and entities.
    - Finder Report: May provide two degrees of relatives with an address summary, phone summary, and bankruptcy information.
    - Comprehensive Report: May provide three degrees of relatives, liens and judgments, criminal records and professional licenses.
  - When ordering a report from a Search Results page, click on a report link displayed near the subject's data. Choose the result record that displays a Social Security Number.
  - Important: Prior to clicking on Request Report, click Save Report for later access to save results.

Best Practices

Why do we run a Report?

- Different types of reports can provide a great deal of information all at once.
- Some users prefer to run reports rather than do individual searches on each piece of information found in the report.

Tip

Sample Reports

From a Search Results page, click the See Examples link to view a sample of each report offered.

Entitlements Report

The Entitlements Report can help agencies improve efficiency and accuracy in the application review process for public assistance programs. The report provides comprehensive, nationwide data to assist with the application review process, helping to reduce inaccurate payments and mitigating risk.

- Screen applications and analyze self-reported data prior to determination
- Verify applicant identity and key information
- Identify questionable background activity
- Aid in discovering household composition
- Assist in identifying potentially unreported assets such as vehicles, property, boats, aircrafts or businesses

Next Steps

For many users, the data returned in a Results pages contains all the information necessary for completing a “case.” The principles discussed in this guide can be applied to most every search found on the Accurint main menu.

For other users, “finding the match” is just a first step, and ordering a more-detailed Report on a subject will come next.

For additional training on LexisNexis Accurint, including further documentation on Searches and Reports, please refer to the support information on the front of this guide.

The Accurint® services are not provided by “consumer reporting agencies,” as that term is defined in the Fair Credit Reporting Act (15 U.S.C. § 1681, et seq.) (“FCRA”) and do not constitute “consumer reports,” as that term is defined in the FCRA. Accordingly, the Accurint services may not be used in whole or in part as a factor in determining eligibility for credit, insurance, employment or another purpose in connection with which a consumer report may be used under the FCRA.

Due to the nature of the origin of public record information, the public records and commercially available data sources used in reports may contain errors. Source data is sometimes reported or entered inaccurately, processed poorly or incorrectly, and is generally not free from defect. This product or service aggregates and reports data, as provided by the public records and commercially available data sources, and is not the source of the data, nor is it a comprehensive compilation of the data. Before relying on any data, it should be independently verified.
